Summary of key findings

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands the procedures to report any concerns or allegations to the relevant authorities. She has a clear understanding of her role and responsibility to safeguard children.
- The childminder understands how to reflect on the quality of her practice, to help identify areas for further development. For example, since the last inspection she has attended training to help support children's well-being, to help them feel safe and secure. In addition she has reviewed how she gains information from parents about children's learning in their home language.
- The childminder explains how she intends to plan a broad curriculum and use her observations of children to identify what they need to learn next. She understands how to share information about children's progress with parents and help them to support children's learning at home. This helps to promote consistency in children's care and learning.
- The childminder has a range of suitable resources for children of all age ranges and knows how to positively support and manage children's feelings. This helps them develop a positive attitude towards learning.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- This was the first routine inspection the provider received since the COVID-19 (coronavirus) pandemic began. The inspector discussed the impact of the pandemic with the childminder and has taken that into account in their evaluation of the setting.
- The inspector discussed self-evaluation with the childminder.
- The inspector sampled documentation, including suitability checks, public liability insurance and qualification certificates.
- The inspector had a tour of the premises, and viewed the toys and equipment that are available for children to use.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she meets the requirements of the early years foundation stage.

We carried out this inspection under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.
