

Childminder Report

Inspection date	18 January 2018
Previous inspection date	2 March 2015

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Not met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision does not meet requirements

- The childminder is not able to verify that she has an appropriate paediatric first-aid qualification.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working in partnership with parents and sharing regular information with them about their child's progress and development.
- The childminder knows what to do if she has any safeguarding concerns about a child's welfare and the reporting procedures to follow. She understands her responsibility to keep children safe from harm.
- The childminder recognises the importance of self-evaluation. She knows where to seek advice and support to improve her practice and promote good outcomes for children.
- The childminder knows how to encourage children to enjoy healthy lifestyles and promote their physical well-being. For example, she understands how to help children make healthy eating choices and will ensure they have regular outings to local parks.
- The childminder knows how to support children's learning and development by providing a range of activities and resources suitable for their age and abilities.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

What the setting needs to do to improve further

To meet the requirements of the early years foundation stage and the Childcare Register the provider must:

	Due Date
■ ensure a suitable paediatric first-aid certificate has been obtained and is available at all times.	01/03/2018

Inspection activities

- The inspector had a tour of the premises with the childminder and viewed the areas normally used for childminding purposes.
- The inspector spoke to the childminder about her understanding of the legal requirements, including how she will support children's learning and development.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder the daily activities and resources she would provide for children of different ages.
- The inspector viewed documentation, such as the childminder's liability insurance certificate and suitability checks.

The childminder registered in 2005. She lives in Eltham, in the London Borough of Greenwich. The childminder operates all year round and works from 8am to 6pm, Monday to Friday.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
