

Childminder Report

Inspection date	15 June 2018
Previous inspection date	11 August 2015

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands her responsibilities and knows what to do if she has safeguarding concerns about a child's well-being or welfare.
- The childminder knows the importance of making observations and assessing individual children's progress and development. She understands how to help them to make good progress in all areas of their learning. The childminder has a wide range of resources.
- The childminder is aware of the importance of working with parents. She intends to support children to develop respect for each other and to build good relationships with their friends. She knows to help children to be independent and gain skills to help them to prepare for school.
- The childminder knows how to keep children safe. She understands the importance of ensuring her home is free from hazards and that all toys and resources are appropriate for use by children. She knows how to manage children's behaviour appropriately.
- The childminder is aware of the need to evaluate her practice and her setting. She has acted on previous recommendations to make improvements.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to meet the safeguarding and welfare requirements when caring for children.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children.
- The inspector discussed record keeping, policies and procedures with the childminder.
- The inspector undertook a tour of the areas of the premises available for childminding.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she will work in partnership with parents and other professionals.

The childminder registered in 2006. She lives in Orpington, in the London Borough of Bromley. She is available for work from Monday to Friday, 8am until 6pm, all year round.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
