Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a good understanding of safeguarding. She is aware of the procedures to follow should she have a concern about a child's welfare.
- The childminder is welcoming and friendly. She acknowledges the benefits of working in partnership with parents and other early years settings to promote continuity in children's care and learning.
- The childminder has a good understanding of the learning and development requirements. She knows how to observe and assess children's progress and understands how to use this information to plan for children's next steps in learning.
- The childminder understands the importance of promoting children's understanding of healthy lifestyles. She is aware of the need to provide children with daily opportunities to be physically active and for them to spend time outdoors in the fresh air.
- The childminder understands how to review and evaluate her practice. She attends training to support her continued professional development and help her to keep up to date with any changes in current guidance.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children and undertake observations, assessments and planning.
- The inspector discussed the policies and procedures with the childminder and viewed documentation that she will use when caring for children.
- The inspector checked areas of the childminder's home that are used when caring for children.
- The inspector checked evidence of the suitability of the childminder and adults living on the premises. She discussed the childminder's understanding of self-evaluation.

The childminder registered in 2006 and lives in Hampstead in the London Borough of Camden. She operates all year round from 8.30am to 5.30pm, Monday to Thursday, except for bank holidays and family holidays. The childminder provides funded early education for two-, three- and four-year-old children.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
