

Childminder report

Inspection date	27 March 2019
Previous inspection date	22 February 2016

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Good	2

Summary of key findings for parents

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands how to safeguard children. She knows how to recognise possible signs that could indicate a child is at risk, and knows the procedures to follow should there be any concerns about a child.
- The childminder knows how to provide children with a safe environment, inside and outside, where children play.
- The childminder understands how to model positive behaviour. She is confident about working with parents to develop strategies to use to support children's social skills and manage their behaviour.
- The childminder recognises the importance of working with parents and other settings that children attend. She knows there is a need to share information regularly to provide a consistent approach in meeting children's development needs.
- The childminder knows how to provide a wide range of activities to support children's mathematical and literacy skills.
- The childminder understands the benefits of providing children with daily opportunities to be physically active, and to provide healthy food to support their physical development.
- The childminder ensures that she is up to date with current practice, and holds a paediatric first-aid qualification. She understands the importance of professional development to improve the quality of her practice.
- The childminder demonstrates her understanding of planning activities based on children's interests and requests to help motivate them and develop their knowledge and skills.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to evaluate the effectiveness of the service.
- The inspector discussed the childminder's knowledge of safeguarding and welfare requirements. She looked at documentation, including the childminder's qualifications and training records.
- The inspector looked at evidence of the suitability of members of the household.
- The inspector checked the childminder's knowledge and understanding of the learning and development requirements, and assessment requirements.
- The inspector checked the premises for safety and looked at some resources that the childminder uses when caring for children.
