The quality and standards of the early years provision

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder has a secure knowledge of the learning and development requirements. She understands how to use observation and assessment to evaluate children's progress. She is also aware of how to plan for individual next steps in learning in order to optimise learning and development.
- The premises are suitable to provide flexible play between indoors and outside to foster free choice and support good health through active physical exercise.
- Through discussion, the childminder demonstrates that she values all children as individuals and recognises the importance of offering activities which help them learn about others and investigate different languages and cultures. She understands how this can enable children to appreciate the local and wider community.
- The childminder understands her role and responsibility in regard to safeguarding children. This contributes to protecting children's welfare. Policies and procedures are developed in order to underpin a good relationship with parents, and support children's well-being.
- Through discussion and documentation, the childminder demonstrates that she continues to develop and evaluate her practice to continue improving the care and learning for children.

Information about this inspection

Inspections of registered early years provision are:

- scheduled at least once in every inspection cycle – the current cycle ends on 31 July 2016
- scheduled more frequently where Ofsted identifies a need to do so, for example where provision was previously judged inadequate
- brought forward in the inspection cycle where Ofsted has received information that suggests the provision may not be meeting the legal requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage or where assessment of the provision identifies a need for early inspection
- prioritised where we have received information that the provision is not meeting the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage and which suggests children may not be safe
- scheduled at the completion of an investigation into failure to comply with the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

The provision is also registered on the voluntary and compulsory parts of the Childcare Register. This report includes a judgment about compliance with the requirements of that register.

Inspection activities

- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she intends to deliver the educational programmes for children and undertake observation, assessment and planning.
- The inspector observed areas of the house and garden to be used for childminding.
- The inspector reviewed the resources available to children.
- The inspector looked at evidence of suitability of household members and a range of other documentation including the safeguarding procedures.

Information about the setting

The childminder was registered in 2008 and is on the Early Years Register and the compulsory and voluntary parts of the Childcare Register. She lives with her husband and three children aged four years, five years and seven years in a house in Luton Bedfordshire. The childminder works with two assistants on an infrequent basis. The whole of the ground floor of the home is used for childminding and designated rooms on the first floor are used for childminding. There is an enclosed garden available for outside play. The childminder collects children from local schools. There were no children on roll in the early years age group at the time of inspection. Type of provision

For the purposes of this inspection the following definitions apply:

Full-time provision is that which operates for more than three hours. These are usually known as nurseries, nursery schools and pre-schools and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage. They are registered on the Early Years Register and pay the higher fee for registration.

Sessional provision operates for more than two hours but does not exceed three hours in any one day. These are usually known as pre-schools, kindergartens or nursery schools and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage. They are registered on the Early Years Register and pay the lower fee for registration.

Childminders care for one or more children where individual children attend for a period of more than two hours in any one day. They operate from domestic premises, which are usually the childminder's own home. They are registered on the Early Years Register and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage.

Out of school provision may be sessional or full-time provision and is delivered before or after school and/or in the summer holidays. They are registered on the Early Years Register and must deliver the Early Years Foundation Stage. Where children receive their Early Years Foundation Stage in school these providers do not have to deliver the learning and development requirements in full but should complement the experiences children receive in school.
