Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The premises are safe, secure and include a range of resources for children's care and learning. The childminder carries out regular risk assessments indoors and outdoors to identify and reduce potential hazards to children.
- The childminder understands child protection issues and the procedures to follow if she is concerned about the welfare of a child. She also knows how to proceed if an allegation is made against her and to keep the required documentation to safeguard children's welfare.
- The childminder knows how to implement good hygiene practices to minimise the spread of infection to children. She also understands how to promote children's good health through providing nutritious meals and exercise.
- The childminder understands the need to observe children and assess their progress. She also knows how to provide age-appropriate activities to help children make progress in all areas of learning.
- The childminder understands the importance of looking after children according to their parents' wishes to promote their well-being. She regularly exchanges information with parents to promote continuity of care and learning for children.
- The childminder is keen to update her knowledge through studying. She works with a co-childminder and together they know to reflect on their practice to decide where they can make improvements to benefit the children.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.
