

Childminder Report

Inspection date	15 July 2016
Previous inspection date	Not applicable

The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Not applicable

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands possible child protection indicators of a safeguarding concern about children's welfare. She knows the procedures to follow if she was worried.
- The childminder knows how to provide interesting and motivating activities across all areas of learning to ensure children make progress.
- The childminder is aware of how to teach children healthy habits, for example, by offering well-balanced meals and daily physical challenges.
- The childminder understands how to use a range of effective approaches to manage children's behaviour, and develop their understanding and regard for others.
- The childminder recognises the value of reviewing her practice regularly to extend her ongoing improvements.
- The childminder understands the value of working in partnership with parents and other early years professionals to support children's care and learning.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector viewed the premises with the childminder.
- The inspector sampled some documentation, including evidence of suitability checks.
- The inspector discussed with the childminder how she would plan for and assess children's progress.
- The inspector spoke with the childminder to assess her understanding of her responsibilities.

The childminder registered in 2014. She lives in Ealing, in the London Borough of Ealing. The childminder operates each weekday, from 8am to 6pm, all year round, except on public Bank holidays. There were no children on roll at the time of the inspection.

This inspection was carried out by Ofsted under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.

Any complaints about the inspection or the report should be made following the procedures set out in the guidance 'Complaints procedure: raising concerns and making complaints about Ofsted', which is available from Ofsted's website: www.gov.uk/government/organisations/ofsted. If you would like Ofsted to send you a copy of the guidance, please telephone 0300 123 4234, or email enquiries@ofsted.gov.uk.

The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Ofsted) regulates and inspects to achieve excellence in the care of children and young people, and in education and skills for learners of all ages. It regulates and inspects childcare and children's social care, and inspects the Children and Family Court Advisory Support Service (Cafcass), schools, colleges, initial teacher training, work-based learning and skills training, adult and community learning, and education and training in prisons and other secure establishments. It assesses council children's services, and inspects services for looked after children, safeguarding and child protection.
