The quality and standards of the early years provision	This inspection:	Met
	Previous inspection:	Not applicable

Summary of key findings for parents

The provision meets requirements

- The childminder understands her responsibility to protect children from harm and knows the appropriate action to take if she has a concern about a child's welfare.
- The childminder has a sound knowledge of how children learn. She understands how to provide children with play activities that are matched to their learning needs and interests, and cover the seven areas of learning.
- The childminder holds a current paediatric first-aid certificate and knows how to react in the event of an accident or emergency. She understands her role to promote children's well-being, such as through a healthy diet and lifestyle.
- The childminder has a positive attitude to diversity and ensuring all children feel valued and learn to respect others.
- The childminder understands the need to provide a safe and welcoming environment which is equipped with appropriate resources.
- The childminder understands the importance of evaluating her provision and undertaking training to improve the quality of her practice and outcomes for children.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The inspector had discussions with the childminder about her childcare practice.
- The inspector had a tour of the premises with the childminder.
