Summary of key findings

This provision meets requirements

- The childminder recognises the value of working in partnership with parents to help ensure consistency in children's care and learning. She gathers useful information from them when children start at her setting, which supports children in settling swiftly.
- The childminder has high expectations regarding children's behaviour. She describes how she plans to manage their behaviour in a supportive way and build sharing, turn taking and an understanding of others into daily activities.
- The childminder offers children a broad range of enjoyable activities in her home and in the local community to help promote their ongoing development. For example, she takes trips to the local park and woodland to extend children's experiences outside of the home.
- The childminder understands how to evaluate her practice to identify ways of improving children's experiences. She has a clear understanding of how to safeguard children, and how to seek advice and support should she have a concern.
- The childminder understands the learning and development requirements of the early years foundation stage. She has a wide range of resources available in her home to support children's learning.

There were no children present when this inspection took place. The findings in this report are based on evidence gathered from discussions with those who care for the children and an inspection of the premises, equipment and relevant documentation. Where there are no children present, no judgement is made on the quality of the early years provision as there is no reliable evidence on which to assess its impact on children. The report states whether the provider continues to meet the requirements of registration.

Inspection activities

- The childminder and the inspector carried out a learning walk together and discussed how the setting promotes children's learning and development.
- The inspector viewed relevant documentation, including the childminder's paediatric first-aid qualification.
- The inspector talked to the childminder about how she reflects on her practice and develops her knowledge about children's development further.

We carried out this inspection under sections 49 and 50 of the Childcare Act 2006 on the quality and standards of provision that is registered on the Early Years Register. The registered person must ensure that this provision complies with the statutory framework for children's learning, development and care, known as the early years foundation stage.
